

actually viewed by unauthorized persons.

Case 9: Three attorneys prepared and filed the public version of a brief that contained bracketed but unredacted BPI and served copies of the brief to parties on the public service list and to other non-authorized persons. The Commission found that these attorneys breached the APO and decided to issue a warning letter to each of the attorneys. (The Commission also found that two other attorneys whose name appeared on the brief did not breach the APO because they did not assist in the preparation of the public version of the brief at issue). In making its decision, the Commission noted that the breach was inadvertent; the attorneys had not previously breached an APO; they took immediate action to mitigate the harm; they immediately reported the potential breach to the Commission; and it did not appear that the BPI was actually read by any unauthorized persons.

IV. Specific Investigations in Which No Breach Was Found

As noted above, in three investigations where the Commission found a breach by one or more parties, it also found that one or more parties investigated did not breach the APO. In addition, the Commission completed one investigation in 1996 in which it found that no breach by any party had occurred. In that investigation, the Commission reached its conclusion on the basis of a finding that the BPI in question, which was petitioner's BPI, had previously been publicly disclosed by the petitioners.

V. Investigations of Breaches Other Than in Antidumping or Countervailing Duty Proceedings

In 1996, the Commission conducted one investigation of an alleged breach of an APO in a proceeding brought pursuant to Section 201 of the Trade Act of 1974. In that investigation, an APO signatory sent the proprietary version of a brief to a party on the public service list that was not a party to the APO. The Commission found that the signatory breached the APO. In deciding to issue only a warning letter, the Commission pointed to the following factors: the breach was inadvertent; the signatory had not previously breached an APO; the signatory took actions to mitigate any harm by retrieving the unopened envelope containing the brief; and thus it did not appear that any unauthorized persons viewed the BPI.

During 1996, the Commission did not conduct any investigations of breaches of APOs in proceedings filed under Section 337 of the Tariff Act of 1930.
